

EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION

Bachelor of Science in Organizational Leadership & Learning – Early Childhood Education

KYVALLO has teamed up with the University of Louisville to offer an Early Childhood Education (ECE) track through their Bachelor of Science in Organizational Leadership and Learning (BSOLL) degree. This online track is designed to prepare early childcare professionals to deliver high-quality, effective and diverse education to young learners in Pre-K classrooms. Service members who are interested in this program may earn up to 48 credit hours towards this degree via work specialization and prior learning assessment – up to $24,000 in savings!

BSOLL: Early Childhood Education

This track enables the student to help at-risk learners in low-income or impoverished communities by developing core education knowledge and communication skills—allowing to work with children as well as their families or caretakers. Students will gain proven interdisciplinary early childhood education expertise and learn to apply practical knowledge through the program's commitment to three pillars.

Military experience listed on the DD214 and/or JST will be applied towards the 48 credit hours of Prior Learning credit.*

Online Early Childhood Education: Bachelor of Science in Organizational Leadership & Learning

Highlights of this pathway include:

- Develop your understanding of child development in education and discover how you can help children create positive social relationships while also learning the ins and outs of day-to-day facility administration operations.
- Turn your prior experience and work knowledge as an early childcare professional into college credit with our Prior Learning Assessment.
- Move through your coursework in the student-preferred timeframe of 8 weeks per course.
- Get started on your degree as soon as you're ready with 5 available starts per year.
- Transfer in your associate degree or other earned credit from accredited institutions or earn the entire degree at UofL.
- Take advantage of the flexibility and convenience of 100% online classes and 24/7 access to learning tools.
- 5 available start times per year.
